Recognition of Prior Learning

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is a process where a student may be granted credit or partial credit towards a qualification in recognition of skills and knowledge gained through work experience, life experience and/or formal training.

Entry Requirements

Students must be apprenticed to an employer.

Fee Information

The cost of a course depends on the number of hours nominated for each unit of competency, the type of study involved and whether the course is subsidised by the government or is fee-for-service.

Each government-subsidised course has a set fee based on the nominated hours for each unit. Fees vary between courses depending on the nature of the course. In general this Award course is subsidised by the government. The student/employer contribution is currently charged at $2.00 per nominal hour for each unit.

Fee-for-service courses are negotiated prior to the commencement of training.

Depending on the course, there may be an additional charge for materials, textbooks and uniforms/personal protective equipment (PPE).

Details of all fees for government-subsidised and fee-for-service courses are available prior to enrolment from ATEC Student Administration.

Training undertaken under an Australian Apprenticeship may attract additional incentives under a range of initiatives in the Australia Government's Skilling Australia for the future initiative. This may include incentives to take up a trade or upgrade your skills. For more information refer to the contact details below.
